 Milow

Back in the days when he was a student himself, Milow used to BE A BATHING Although he WAS PLAYING MUSIC ALL DAY, he chose to study Political Sciences at the LARGE university of LEUVEN. His degree makes him VERY SMART?
 though he does not think that HE WILL EVER NEED IT. One year Milow passed as an exchange student in California where he learned that THE WORLD IS A BIG PLACE To him, most enjoyable about being in the U.S. seems THE MENTALITY, but growing up in Belgium was NOT SO BAD at all. Inspired by the music of bands and artists like RYAN ADAMS which he SAW PERFORM IN 2001 Milow decided to be a musician too. The biggest challenge being a DIY musician surely was TO DEAL WITH DISAPPOINTMENTS
 In 2008 Milow's international breakthrough came with an acoustic guitar cover of ›Ayo technology‹ which he considers his FUNNIEST song as it TALKS ABOUT POLYGRAPHY
 If he covered another rap song, it'd probably be A STUPID IDEA ~~of rap artist~~ because HE ALREADY DID THAT ONCE. However, Milow prefers to WRITE HIS OWN SONGS just like he did for his latest album-release ›Silver Linings‹. Being convinced that GOOD SONGS CAN CONQUER THE WORLD, most songs on ›Silver Linings‹ are quite ACOUSTIC AND RECORDED LIVE - which does not mean that Milow is a INTROVERT person at all. In fact, the 33-year-old Belgian loves GOOD FOOD especially when HE'S HUNGRY. With his music he not only tries to MAKE PEOPLE but also to GIVE THEM HOPE
 And if Milow didn't have become a popular singer-songwriter, he would probably work as A SINGER
ON CRUISE SHIPS. All students he strongly advises to CHASE
YOUR DREAMS, even if ALL HOPE SEEMS LOST! Your

MILOW, bürgerlich Jonathan Vandebroek, wurde am 14. Juli 1981 in Borgerhout, einem Stadtteil von Antwerpen, geboren. Der Singer-Songwriter wuchs in einer sehr musikalischen Familie auf. Nachdem er in verschiedenen Bands gespielt hatte, entschloss er sich 2003 zu einer Solokarriere. Bis zu seinem internationalen Durchbruch sollten allerdings noch einige Jahre ins Land gehen: Erst das 2009 veröffentlichte 50-Cent-Cover ›Ayo Technology‹ machte den Belgier zum Popstar. Seit 2012 lebt der Sänger wieder dort, wohin es ihn bereits als Student verschlug: in der Sonne Südkaliforniens. Mut zur Lücke beweist das nächste Mal: Frank Buschmann
